RURALS KILLED IN BATTLE IN MEXICO

American Citizen Is Shot Four Times by an Insurrecto Band.

20 of a band of 200 men approached the train and opened up a heavy fire, the first volley shattering the headlight. The train was brought to a standstill and six men approached the engine and asked for the engineer. "I am the engineer," replied Brackenbore. The six rebels immediately raised their rifles and fired directly at him, but he dodged and escaped a second volley. The others then fired repeatedly into the train, at least 250 shots being fired, but no one was hurt, the peons falling to the floors of the cars.

Regulars Disperse Rebels.
At this juncture the regulars, 20 in number, made their appearance and, when within 200 yards, dismounted and approached the rebels. The troops fired a single volley which caused the attacking band to fly to the hills, without returning the fire. The locomotive and caboose were badly battered. Gen. Lujera of the Mexican army has arrived here from Monterrey to take general command of all military operations in this district. His title will be jefe de armas.

Dermejillo Station Robbed.
The band that visited Dermejillo robbed the safe in the ticket office of the Ferrocarril company of $45. The express agent at the station when on opening the safe handed the $8 which it contained to the leader was told that if the company was so poor he could keep the money.

American Is Wanted.
H. E. O'Driscoll, a mining man known to all camps in this section of the republic is the latest victim of the revoltees displeasure. He is alive today, wounded four times, simply because the rebels who attacked him and the ranch in his charge had left him for dead. O'Driscoll was in charge of the hacienda Guichapa on the Tepehuanes branch of the Mexican International, a property which was recently purchased by an American company of St. Louis. Thursday afternoon the Durango band, which had previously visited Avino, then crossed over to San Juan del Rio, Durango, appropriating merchandise and food as they went, arrived at the Guachipa property and seemed to be well pleased with their reception. Finally a demand was made for money. The American declared he had none on the ranch. "Then take these bullets," said the jefe and forthwith he shot four times at O'Driscoll. One of the bullets made a scalp wound back of the head which stunned him and he fell. When the band departed, workmen rendered him assistance and it was found that he had been slightly wounded in four places, none of them necessarily dangerous. One ball entered the arm, another passed through the knee cap, the most dangerous; a third grazed the shoulder and the fourth caused him to fall. He was immediately taken to the Tepehuanes hospital, reaching Durango last night and entering the sanitarium of Dr. McKisop, who declared that unless complications arose, the only wound that might grow much trouble was the injury to the knee cap. O'Driscoll is from Colorado, where his relatives reside, and, besides, having worked for several years at Ventanas, Dgo., was in charge of the mines of the Lucia Mining and Milling company at Avino some time ago.

Retreat from Regulars.
The same band that assaulted O'Driscoll camped Saturday night at Avino mines. Sunday morning, hearing of the arrival of the regulars, they mounted the hill on which the mill is located and watched the regulars turn the foot of an adjacent hill. For three kilometers as the regulars advanced the band fired from its vantage point without killing a man and finally retreated under the fire of the regulars.

Unusual Activity.
A resume of the activities of the insurrectos and of the government forces during the week would show more action on the part of both than has marked the trend of the revolutionary affairs in this section since the beginning of the insurrecto movement. With the arrival of Gen. Lujera from Monterrey to assume general command of all military operations in this part of the country, movement has been quickened from military circles and real fighting has resulted, the rebels in most cases having been dispersed.

The severest struggle between the government and the enemy was probably that which consumed two hours near the colonia siding on the Mexican International about 20 kilometers from Torreon and eight kilometers beyond Matamoros on a ranch called

Leaders in Lower Prices

Azules. The best information obtainable shows that 30 deaths resulted on both sides, among the federal losses being Capt. Duran of the regular army. The rebels were led by Sixto Ugarte, a shoemaker of Matamoros, who, with Augustin Castro, the ex-street car inspector of the Lerdo and Torreon electric railways, engaged the federal forces at Solima hacienda north of Torreon last Sunday.

Some Losses in Fighting.
In the Solima engagement the total rebel force engaged was 70, the leaders having had 50 men when they left Zaragosa and 70 when they reached Corote on Saturday. The losses at Corote were replaced by substitutes and about the same number were surprised Sunday by federal forces and auxiliaries. The rebels were killed outright and buried in the sand. Two others were known to have died in the mountains and another two were brought into Matamoros Thursday night and have since died. The rebels lost two dead. The number of wounded on the part of the rebels is unknown. The forces scattered but a force of 150 gathered Thursday morning in the highlands of Azules.

Federal Ambushed.
Here they laid in wait for a force of federal troops and municipal guards under Capt. Duran and caught them in a box, dealing death to the regulars before they could recover from the surprise of the ambush. The rebels rushed quickly and attacked their assailants with fury and the dead and wounded on both sides was about equal. Reinforcements were sent from Matamoros and the rebels were repulsed. The rebels were captured and their arms and equipment were also destroyed for the same reason.

Artillery Does Good Work.
The artillery section under Capt. Carlos Chavez rendered good service with their Modragon guns and aided greatly in the victory, covering with their fire the advance of the infantry. Reconnoitering the battle field today we have buried 57 bodies and found 72 carbines abandoned by the enemy in the flight. Forty prisoners were captured, nine of them wounded, one of whom has since died. The prisoners were treated with the greatest humanity and the wounded attended in the field hospital.

The Way the Rebels Pay.
The rebel forces who again visited the vicinity of Voladerna last Saturday are trying to figure out how they could be accused of stealing the $200 payroll and merchandise which they lifted from the El Cobre mine, a property of the American Smelting and Refining company. The rebels found a bunch of pay checks which the company issued on the store for provisions for workmen they counted $200 worth of them and carried them off with the company.

Topia in Rebel Hands.
The news of the surrender of Topia Dgo., was no surprise to people of Torreon who had been advised of the manner in which the rebels had laid siege to it. The rebels are preserving order and no acts of violence are being reported.

the hands of the enemy again. This movement was brilliantly executed with the result that eight wagons were brought into Casas Grandes containing the following provisions, destined for the enemy: 70 sacks of flour, eight of corn, 11 of frioles, one of a half of tobacco, six boxes of soap and one detonator with a large amount of insulated copper wire and a silk flag with the words "Ejército Libertador."

Federal Casualties.
In addition to myself, following of our forces were wounded: Capt. of engineers Ramon Ceballos, Capt. Gilberto Barca, 12th battalion; telegraph operator Ramon Cortes and nine men of the sixth battalion, nine of the 12th battalion, 11 of the 10th cavalry, one of the third artillery, three of the fifth artillery and one of the artillery train.

MEXICANS ROB JUDGE
Tucson, Ariz., March 26.—Armed bands of rebels from Mexico are committing depredations at Sonoyta, Ariz., near the border. They got money from Judge Quiroz by holding a knife at his throat, according to a letter received here today. Americans in that district are unprotected.

HEARTS RANCH MANAGER IS RELEASED BY INSURRECTOS
J. C. Hays, manager of the Hearts Ranch in Chihuahua, who was arrested by Orozco through a misunderstanding about the sale of cattle, has been released. Orozco only held him a short time, it is stated.

OKLAHOMA DOCTOR ALIVE.
Dr. J. W. Wilson, among the reported killed as a result of the Casas Grandes battle, is still alive. The physician, who joined Madero's command at Guadalupe, was reported killed, and at least wounded, but it is now reported that he was not injured, and continued with the column on the march south from the San Diego ranch. Dr. Wilson comes from Tulsa, Okla.

MEXICAN PRESS SHOWS ANTI-AMERICAN VIEW

Mexico City, Mex., March 26.—The anti-American press of Mexico has made the recent utterances of Berthold and other socialist adventurers of lower California an excuse for bitter attacks on the United States. It pretends to see in their announced intention of establishing an independent government in lower California a plan on the part of the United States for the annexation of that Mexican territory, and couple with it the mobilization of American troops along the frontier.

"We Opinion," a newspaper of this capital, says: "We are now face to face with an embarrassing situation, an attack on our national integrity as a result of the adventures of Berthold in lower California. The facility with which this adventurer has captured a town of the republic, forcing the few troops sent against him to retreat, confirms the statements made in these columns on various occasions, in reference to the defencelessness of our northern frontier, and the success certain to attend any attempt at armed invasion. Criminal has been the abandon, the indifference, the negligence of the authorities."

It has been demonstrated clearly that lower California, and all other territory along the international line, is at the mercy of an invading force. And now if, as is reported, a few groups of merciless creatures, taking advantage of the unfortunate circumstances under which we are laboring, have already intervened, the Mexican people can figure that there will follow the day when military aggression will succeed the present movement. The United States has assembled along the international line soldiers in sufficient number to crush the 5000 or 6000 men of the Mexican army operating in the north.

National Defense Urgent.
"National defense is urgent. It is urgent because the embarrassing situation is quickly closed. It is time to inflict punishment, not tempered with mercy, on the adventurer, Berthold, or any other entering the country with arms in hand. It is time to go directly to the end without vacillation, to prove that we are strong in the repression of foreign disturbers. What profits it that councils of war fill the prisons with sentenced men and the places of execution with corpses. National conservation is the first consideration, and after that our internal affairs."

"The attitude of the American press, or at least a part of it, already using the word 'belligerency' in treating of the operations of the rebels, has not escaped anyone. Later these newspapers will use 'annexation' if the government of the white house, in a moment of hatred for the Latin-American race, which it holds inferior, concedes international rights to the rebels."

Was a Groce or Cannon?
"We repeat that it is necessary to finish with these adventurers, for we fear that in some encounter there will appear a Groce or a Cannon, from the many ready to play the roles of victims to provoke international difficulties and determine the movement of expansion, perfectly meditated and brutally carried out by the right of force. As we think, so think many Mexicans, and in accord with us is the universal conviction, as to the creation of pretexts or motives for war when the Colossus has resolved on war. Spain has seen the revelation of the mystery of the Maine emerge from the bottom of the ocean. The Colossus of the rebels was the sole purpose of guaranteeing the predominance of its commercial interests at a point so strategic as the island of Cuba. Now it sees the opportunity to create distrust among other nations, to the end that it may suppress Mexico, its competitor in connection with the transportation of merchandise across the isthmus of Tehuantepec, to the advantage of the Panama canal."

"Back of the action of Berthold, who may be a Groce or a Cannon for us, exists the black hand of Uncle Sam, with its 9,000,000 inhabitants, and with the necessities of their commerce and industry, and with their outrageous ambition for territory and markets."

Texas—Lower California.
Under the caption, "There Is the Danger," Texas, 1847, Lower California, 1911, "El Globo," an anti-American paper of Guadalajara, prints the following: "Reader, open any history of Mexico and search for the incidents of the war of 1847; the Yankee intervention, the loss of a great part of our territory, and the motives that occasioned the annexation of Texas to the United States."

"Those occurrences, which filled us with sorrow and mourning, seem to us country torn by an iron hand, may have exact repetition in lower California. There in lower California, and there in the United States."

Some Interesting Facts Regarding Health Statistics

Few people realize to what extent their health depends upon the condition of the kidneys. The physician in nearly all cases of serious illness, makes a chemical analysis of the patient's urine. He knows that unless the kidneys are doing their work properly, the other organs cannot be brought back to health and strength. When the kidneys are neglected or abused in any way, serious results are sure to follow. According to health statistics, Bright's disease which is really an advanced form of kidney trouble, caused nearly ten thousand deaths in 1909, in the state of New York alone. Therefore, it behooves us to pay more attention to the health of these most important organs. An ideal herbal compound that has had remarkable success as a kidney remedy is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great Kidney, Liver and Bladder Remedy. The mild and healing influence of this preparation is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of cures. If you feel that your kidneys require attention, and wish a sample bottle, write to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Mention this paper and they will gladly forward it to you absolutely free by mail. Swamp-Root is sold by every druggist in bottles of two sizes—50c and $1.00.
